Synopsis

The Universiti Teknologi Malaysia (UTM) Institute of Bioproduct Development (IBD), located in Johor Bahru, Malaysia, is a pioneering center dedicated to advancing the research, development, and commercialization of innovative bioproducts. With a vision to become a leading center in bioproduct research and business development, IBD focuses on translating natural resources and biological processes into high-value applications for the wellness industries. Its comprehensive research areas span microbial bioprocesses, cosmeceuticals and fragrances, food and nutraceuticals, herbal and phytochemical processing, and bioresources, all supported by state-of-the-art analytical and biovalidation facilities. IBD is committed to driving sustainable development and creating wealth through bio-based solutions.

This technical visit aims to provide participants with a comprehensive overview of IBD's cutting-edge research, development, and innovation in the field of bioproducts. Participants will have the opportunity to engage with IBD's experienced researchers and learn about their ongoing projects, from fundamental scientific discoveries to the commercialization of bioproducts. The visit will offer valuable insights into the latest advancements in bioproduct development and the role of research institutes like IBD in driving innovation and economic growth in Malaysia and beyond.
